

Tenured/Tenure Track Faculty Position in Business Law

The Scheller College of Business at the Georgia Institute of Technology is seeking applications for a faculty position in Business Law beginning fall 2014. Applications at the assistant and associate professor level will be considered. Preferred areas of expertise include, but are not limited to, intellectual property, environmental law and sustainability. A Juris Doctor and evidence of scholarly research and the ability to teach the College's business law offerings at the undergraduate and graduate level are required. The normal teaching load is three courses (three semester hours each) per academic year. Excellence in teaching and a high level of research productivity are expected.

Our undergraduate program has approximately 1,300 students. Our MBA programs enroll about 225 students each year, while the Executive Masters programs enroll about 100 students each year. The College's Ph.D. program enrolls between 10 and 15 students each year and has approximately 50 students in residence.

The full-time MBA program is ranked 27th by U.S. News & World Report; 1st in Georgia and 10th among national public universities. The College is the home of the Cecil B. Day Program for Business Ethics, the Technology Innovation: Generating Economic Results (TI:GER), a U.S. Department of Education funded Center for International Business Education and Research (CIBER), and the Institute for Leadership and Entrepreneurship. The College hosts an annual Roundtable on Engineering Entrepreneurship Research, and an Impact Speakers Series featuring CEOs of technology companies. The College provides an intellectually stimulating research environment. Faculty members are active in research and publish in leading journals, books, monographs, and conference proceedings.

The Scheller College of Business offers a competitive salary and outstanding benefits. Additional information regarding the College can be found at www.scheller.gatech.edu.

For priority review, please send a vita and cover letter indicating your education, relevant experience, research publications and interests no later than April 1, 2014 to recruit-law@scheller.gatech.edu. However, all applications received after this date will be considered.

A part of our recruitment procedures involves capturing demographical information. All applicants will be forwarded the documentation to complete at the time of your application. Your participation in this practice is strictly voluntary.

Packages sent by mail will not be accepted. All documents must be in Microsoft Word or Adobe.pdf format.